

REMARKS

Claim 1 is amended to correct the Examiner's transcription of the agreed Examiner's Amendment. The Examiner used the singular "the magnetic pole" in the Examiner's Amendment, but the claim makes clear that the motor has a plurality of magnetic poles. Accordingly, the Examiner introduced an ambiguity that was not intended. As discussed with the Examiner in the telephone interview, the acceptable phrases were either "a magnetic pole" or "the magnetic poles", however the former was to be preferred because it only requires the rotor to pass a single pole to generate the TACH output.

Entry of the Amendment is requested so that the claim does not improperly mix singular and plural cases.

Respectfully submitted,

---
